RENEWAL

One of the fundamental characteristics of the EMUI is that the work is done in team, assuming each responsible the quota that guarantees the excellence and quality of our actions, compatible with solidarity, as a transversal element of the project.

The Departments are the basis of a type of teaching and research that, respecting the legal formalities of application, guarantees a critical offer, that is to say, to the service of people, cultures and institutions when they demand it and as they demand it.

Among its priority objectives the EMUI_ EuroMed University has set out to train its own teaching staff and researchers, giving priority to young people and respecting the geographical, cultural and linguistic plurality of the Mediterranean. This forces us to introduce differentiating criteria when selecting the candidates.

Accordingly, and Once the term of office of the current coordinators has expired, the Council of the Presidency, on the proposal of the Academic and Research Council, makes public the call for reference.

Candidatures will be sent to the President of the EMUI in written motivation and brief CV: president@emui.eu, cc/ cabinet@emui.eu

Deadline: April 30th, 2019

The Research Commission shall be pronounced before the May 10, 2019
